

GOLF

Any number of players. Sequence of play is determined by the closest shooter to the practice green bull's eye. Object of the game is to hit all nine greens in sequence in the lowest possible score. Play on any hole is completed when each player hits the green. A perfect score is nine. Players whose shots land in red hazards must penalize themselves one shot in addition to the shot which landed in the hazard.

Presented by
Airbag
 Pneumatic Arms
 .com